Literacy Crusader to Address GOP Unit

Dr. William V. Lawlor, president of Crusade for Literacy, lecturer and consultant, will address the South Bay Club of Federated Republican Women Thursday, Oct. 13.

The event is a noon luncheon meeting to be held at Smith Brothers' Indian Village in Torrance.

Lawlor has been president and chairman of the Board of Directors for Crusade for Literacy since 1963. This non-profit volunteer organization dedicated to teacher training in reading methods, program supervision, testing and evaluation has taught approximately 2,500 functional illiterates in the Los Angeles area to read. Lawlor is president and founder of the Reading Guidance Associates. He is consultant in communication skills, teacher training and supervision for "Operation Boot Straps" in Los Angeles.

In 1965 and 1966 he was consultant to the Greenleigh Associates Reading Project under the auspices of the Office of Economic Opportunity. At the National Conference of the Reading Reform Foundation in New York, he was moderator from 1962 through 1964, major speaker in 1965.

Throughout his career Lawlor has made lecture appearances before professional and civic groups. He has been a delegate to both state and national conferences on education and member and chairman of education commissions in Sacramento.

Lawlor attended Glendale Junior College, Loyola University and University of Southern California.

Mrs. Bertha Walters may be called for luncheon reservations.

SHE'S LOOKING FOR A HOME

This beautiful doll, with one of the handsomest wardrobes a dollie ever had, will be given to some lucky little girl at the Las Vecinas Pancake Breakfast and Fun Fair, Sunday morning, Oct. 16, at El Retiro Park. The wardrobe of party dresses, sportswear, lingerie and accessories has been made by club members, from left, Mmes. Alfred Miller, Max Lane, William Bricken and William McNeill. Proceeds from the event, open to the public, will go to the club's civic and philanthropic endeavors. (Press-Herald Photo)

Las Vecinas Women's Club Presents

Annual Breakfast-Fair

Next Sunday morning from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m., Las Vecinas Women's Club will again sponsor its annual Pancake Breakfast and Fun Fair. Setting for the club's major benefit will be the rotunda and grounds at El Retiro Park in Hollywood Riviera.

Mrs. Robert Martin, chairman of this year's breakfast, announces that a complete breakfast menu will be served. Food is being furnished by a local market.

Mrs. George W. Betus is in charge of the Fun Fair and she and her committee have planned activities of interest to all age groups. Besides the popular bean bag toss, white elephant sale and the doll booth, several new booths have been added including a Teen Sweater Booth, Hat Booth and an old-fashion Cake Sale booth.

Major prize to be awarded during the breakfast and fair will be a doll with a complete wardrobe. Club members have made the doll wardrobe. Mrs. L. M. Lane is in charge of the doll project and booth.

All proceeds from the Pancake Breakfast will go to the club's fund to support many civic and philanthropic enterprises.

Tickets are now on sale and may be secured by calling Mrs. Albert Miller. Breakfast tickets may also be obtained at the park on the morning of the Breakfast and Fun Fair.

LOOKING OUT TO SEA

Hospital Auxiliary's

Candlelight Ball

South Bay Hospital Auxiliary will take full "command" of the SS Princess Louise at Terminal Island on Saturday evening, Oct. 22, to "pipe" aboard hospital staff, employees, guests and friends for an evening of dining, dancing and fun.

A cocktail hour at 7:30 p.m. will be followed by dinner at S. Rear Admiral Carlton B. Jones, Commander Pacific Fleet Mine Forces, will be honorary chairman of the gala event.

The wheelhouse, original fixtures and the stained glass windows will provide guests with a glimpse into the romantic "20s", the era in which the ship was launched. Guests are invited to stroll the deck and enjoy the beautiful view.

During the evening prizes will be awarded, the major prize, an "ocean voyage for two," from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

Proceeds from the Candlelight Cruise Ball, as with those of the "Christmas Prevue" are used to purchase medical equipment for the South Bay Hospital which serves the entire South Bay area. Funds are also applied to the continuing sponsorship of nursing scholarships at El Camino College.

Mrs. Robert Lacey and Mrs. Alan Phillips are co-chairmen of the event. They are being assisted by Mmes. Ronald C. Walker, Louis Musulin, Gayle Martin, Carl Rausch, John Fraser, Richard Nielsen, Thomas Whitlow, Robert McKinney and Robert M. Dean.

Early reservations are suggested and should be made with Mrs. John Fraser.

AN EVENING IN THE ISLANDS

Amid South Sea decor, arranged by the Jack Stephensons and Harold Harveys, the Couples Club of the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection will stage its Annual Luau on Oct. 15. Hosts for the affair, starting at 7 p.m., are the Gerald De Jonges, Johan Eliassens, Milton Langums and John Petersons. Bidding all to come to the luau are, from left, Mmes. John Schenmel, president, John Peterson, hostess; and Harold Harvey, decorations. Each couple will bring an exotic salad or casserole. Any of the host couples may be called for reservations.
